Spring 2022
Grantsmanship

A one credit hour course intended to enhance skills associated with effective grant proposal preparation, writing and submission.

The course will emphasize identifying strategies for developing grant proposals that support both hypothesis-driven and need-based empirical research activities, with a focus on opportunities from government, industry, and private sectors.

Open to researchers at the Ph.D. level (or with permission of instructor), faculty, and administrators conducting or supporting research in the biological, life, natural, physical, social and behavioral sciences; mathematics; humanities; engineering; and education.

GRAD 5891 (25797) Grantsmanship meets alternate Mondays at 4:30 pm

For more information, contact the instructor, Dr. Nani Pybus, Manager, Center for Strategic Proposal Development at 744-3660 or at nani.pybus@okstate.edu.
